THE COOKING

Tami J. Cecil
Chef

Summer is here and the livin' is GREAT!!!

As I write this, we are just coming off the first official summer holiday, Memorial Day.

We had a wonderful weekend here at the Farm. Glory Girl, the latest addition to the clan, learned to swim with the Big Dogs this weekend. Very exciting! Of course no holiday is complete here without throwing a party. So, we did!

An official kick-off to summer bash was held here the Sunday of the long holiday. Complete with BBQ ribs and a mountain of side dishes, cool libations, great friends, kids and dogs all around. Thanks to all that came to play!

Chef Tami on ONN

"Cooking with Chef Tami", the TV series on ONN (go to ONNTV.Com for the latest video and air times) was renewed!! We are very excited about this and a HUGE amount of gratitude goes out to Experience Columbus for sponsoring our show. For all that is going on in Columbus, www.experiencecolumbus.com is the source!

The gardens are in and I am SO happy!

We are sure to have a bumper crop of heirloom tomatoes this year. We started the plants from seeds and they are really doing well. We will be having a class on preserving foods later this summer. Let me know if you are interested. I just lucked into some half gallon Ball jars that a friend of mine had. You don't see those much anymore.

Very cool!

Here's to Summer, my friends. Live it up, relax and enjoy!
